

David Bailis

David Bailis is a multi-talented musician best known for his skills as a guitarist and bassist. Equally accomplished as a composer, producer and educator, David has showcased his musical talents throughout the world, performing at venues ranging from sold out Carnegie Hall, to Bonnaroo, to a crowd of 25,000 people in Golden Gate Park.

David is a member of the acclaimed electro funk band Pimps of Joytime. He handles bass, guitar and sampler/electronics in the band. He is the former guitarist of Grammy-nominated singer/emcee and Fugees alum John Forte's band and currently is the musical director for Sierre Leone hip-hop superstar Bajah & the Dry Eye Crew as well as leading his own dynamic trio- DB3.

In addition to his music career, David also has a successful blog and podcast- Tourganic, which focuses on maintaining a healthy lifestyle on the road as a touring musician and vegan athlete. David is based in Brooklyn, NY and when not on tour can be found performing and teaching in New York City.

Biography

DB3 is the brainchild of NYC guitarist and bassist David Bailis, who after touring internationally with renowned artists for many years, started his own trio in 2017. What began as a residency has sparked an exciting creative outlet for Bailis, with the debut album slated for release in July of 2018 on Infinity Gritty/Ropeadope. David Bailis's skilled guitar playing and diverse sonic background shine through in his live shows with influences ranging from jazz, afrobeat, funk and rock. His adventurous compositions and the band's synergy take listeners on a memorable ride.
